A large grid for handwriting practice, divided into several horizontal sections:

- Section 1 (Top): A 2x5 grid of blue dots. Dashed arrows show the stroke order for writing the number 1: a diagonal stroke from top-left to middle, and a horizontal stroke from middle to right.
- Section 2: A 2x5 grid of blue dots. Dashed arrows show the stroke order for writing the number 2: a diagonal stroke from top-left to middle, a horizontal stroke from middle to right, and a diagonal stroke from middle to bottom-left.
- Section 3: A continuous row of diamond shapes (rhombuses) formed by two intersecting diagonal lines.
- Section 4: A 2x5 grid of blue dots. Dashed arrows show the stroke order for writing the number 3: a diagonal stroke from top-left to middle, a horizontal stroke from middle to right, and a second diagonal stroke from middle to bottom-left.
- Section 5: A continuous row of diamond shapes, identical to Section 3.
- Section 8: A 2x5 grid of blue dots. Dashed arrows show the stroke order for writing the number 6: a diagonal stroke from top-left to middle, a horizontal stroke from middle to right, and a diagonal stroke from middle to bottom-left.
