

"And when the morning wakes me up, will you still be here?" asked Willa.

"I'll still be here," said Willoughby.

"Good," said Willa. "That's the happiest thing of all!"

"Goodnight Willa," said Willoughby.

But Willa didn't answer.
Willa was sound asleep.

